constructed a system of hieroglyphs—symbolic ideas expressing simultaneously a degree of knowledge apprehended as well as expressing the ineffability of total knowledge. Nevertheless they found the degrees they apprehended, if not fulfilling, certainly stimulating.

*

In its own special way, engagement with ideas and symbols can be the elixir of life. Following ideas and symbols may, because it can become an eternal process of alternation and generation, be the way or road to immortality itself.

*

RESOURCES FOR FURTHER READING